-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 102.

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only, if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 3-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Foore et al. (Foore), US 2004/0180696.

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only, if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Regarding claims 3-32, Foore discloses a code division multiple access user device comprising:

a CDMA transceivers (see Fig. 1);

a controller connected to said CDMA transceiver (pages 2-3 [0033-0037]);

the effective U.S. filing date of the reference

the invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference showing under 37 CFR 1.132

disclosed in the reference was derived from the communication session establishment software for establishing a communication session with a base station, the communication session comprising a plurality of layers including a physical layer (page 3 [0044-0045]);

bandwidth negotiation software (i.e., bandwidth management) for negotiating with the base station an allocated bandwidth for said CDMA transceiver (page 3 [0044-0045]);

physical layer connection software (i.e., protocol converters) for establishing and releasing a physical layer connection between said CDMA transceiver and the base station (page 3 [0044-0045]);

state maintenance software for maintaining a state of at least one other layer during the communication session after termination of the physical layer (i.e., spoofing)(page 3 [0044-0045]).
